This fear story high, two bay wide rowhouse, with brick exterior (laid in running bond) is located in the middle of the block and is similar in height and width to the surrounding buildings. The decorative wooden doorway (arched), with transom, is on the right bay side. There is a small stoop and also a vestibule and inner door.

The windows are with the with one over one lights; the windows are arched on the first story with arched decorative wood lintels and stone sills. The second and third story windows are rectangular with stone sills and flat brick lintels. The fourth story or dormers has two grouped windows, but with have two over two lights, and protruding arched caps. There is a wooden decorative cornice below the mansard roof.
